MONTHLY NEWSLETTER | AUGUST 2019

From the Whyte House...

Parents, Grandparents, Aunts, Uncles, church members...You can all be really, really proud of your kids. Our kids here at OCC just got back from their Destination Unknown Mission Trip. This trip took us all over the North Central part of the United States (Nebraska and South Dakota). We did all kinds of odd jobs. From moving furniture and supplies to cleaning up weeds, mowing and trimming trees. These kids were the answer to several prayers in those areas. They did it all with strong and courageous hearts. I am excited about our future as a nation, as Christians and as a church with these leaders climbing the leadership ladder. I am reminded of similar things that were being done by other Christians in Matthew chapter 25 when Jesus is sharing one of his many parables with his disciples. He is telling them about doing good for others and he tells them what the King will say in the end. Verse 40, “The King will reply, ‘Truly I tell you, whatever you did for one of the least of these brothers and sisters of mine, you did for me.’ These students made all of us very proud. They represented the town of Oakley incredibly. They represented the church fantastically. But most importantly they represented Jesus with unbelievable servant’s hearts and attitudes. Well done students, you knocked this mission’s trip out of the park. It was a pleasure to serve alongside all of you.

Serving Christ Together,

Ja
