MONTHLY NEWSLETTER | FEBRUARY 2020

From The Whyte House...

So we have just concluded our first series of the year. That series was all about Matthew 28:16-20 and the call that Jesus has given each of us to go and make disciples. So what's next? Well I got to thinking about what often happens in the second month of the year after we prepare to commit to any task, but primarily one that God is calling us to. Satan begins working overtime convincing us of all the reasons we can't or shouldn't. He gives us excuse after excuse and we end up having what I call, "I would, but..." moment. So I decided to start a new series called, "How Big is your But?" I know it might be a little over the top but it is true. This little word can create some pretty big problems as it relates to God calling us to go, do and be. So we are going to spend 4 weeks in February looking at people in the Bible who had some pretty big "I would, but" moments. I hope that you can reach out, bring a friend, coworker, neighbor or all 3 and join us for this series that will begin, this Sunday, February 2.

Reaching Out with all of you,

Ja
